Who Are We?

The ACLU of Georgia envisions a state that guarantees all persons the civil liberties and rights contained in the United States and Georgia Constitutions and Bill of Rights. The ACLU of Georgia enhances and defends the civil liberties and rights of all Georgians through legal action, legislative and community advocacy, and civic education and engagement. We are an inclusive, nonpartisan, and statewide organization powered by our members, donors, and active volunteers.

Which bills did we choose, and why?

Throughout the ACLU's history, great strides have been made to protect the civil rights and liberties of Georgians. At the ACLU of Georgia, we know that a lot more work needs to be done and that is why we fight everyday to protect the rights of all Georgians. To ensure a thorough review of Georgia's civil rights and liberties bills, we scored 27 bills going back to 2011 and covering the issue areas of: voting rights, redistricting and gerrymandering, criminal justice reform and policing, First Amendment rights, reproductive rights, LGBTQ rights, and immigrant rights.

How does the scoring work and what do the scores mean?

We settled on 27 bills in total, all of which encompass a wide range of civil rights and liberties issues. We focused on legislation between 2011 and 2020. Hundreds of bills are voted on each year, but to narrow the list down, we examined major pieces of legislation that we believe are truly reflective of where legislators stand on key civil liberties issues. The number of bills scored under each issue area varies, as the bills that are voted on are dependent upon the legislative agenda of General Assembly leadership.

For each bill, we reviewed each legislator's corresponding vote. We indicated which vote, yes or no, would align with the ACLU of Georgia's mission to protect the civil liberties and rights of all Georgians.

Each legislator received one point if they voted in line with the ACLU of Georgia's stance on the bill and zero points if they voted against the ACLU of Georgia's stance on a bill. If the legislator was absent, excused, or not in office, we did not score them for that bill. Each legislator's score reflects the percentage of the time that legislator voted in line with the ACLU of Georgia's position for the selected bills under each civil liberties issue area.

Some legislators are scored on more bills than others due to a variety of factors including: years of service, missed or skipped votes, and which chamber the bill passed. If the Legislator was not in office to vote on any of the bills under a particular issue area, that fact is noted. If the legislator was in office, but did not vote on any bills under a given issue area, that fact is noted. We only scored sitting legislators who are set to be on the November 3, 2020 ballot as of August 11, 2020.

Bills Being Scored

Immigrant Rights

HB 87 \(2011\): Anti-Immigrant Regulations
ACLU GA Position: NO

House Bill 87, passed in 2011, allows Georgia police officers to administer federal immigration laws and to engage in racial profiling in regards to immigration status. In addition, HB 87 limits the ability of some employers to hire workers and creates harsher punishments for hiring undocumented immigrants, which is especially harmful on Georgia's agriculture community. By increasing the power of local law enforcement to take on immigration enforcement duties, this bill unfairly targets people in the immigrant community and jeopardizes due process. Georgia needs legislators who will fight to protect the rights of immigrants.

HB 37 (2017): Anti-Sanctuary Schools
ACLU GA Position: NO

House Bill 37 was passed in 2017 and prohibits private universities from enacting sanctuary policies to protect their undocumented students. HB 37 also states that any private institution that violates this law will lose state funding, which will consequently result in students losing their scholarships, loans, and grants. Every student in Georgia, regardless of their immigration status, deserves and is entitled to an education. Georgia needs legislators who will protect and fight for all students at Georgia's colleges and universities, regardless of their immigration status.

SB 269 (2016): Anti-Sanctuary City Bill
ACLU GA Position: NO

Senate Bill 269 was passed in 2016. This bill forces local governments to report their compliance with Georgia's sanctuary city prohibition or risk losing state funding. Efforts to punish cities that take steps to improve public safety by taking common sense measures, like adopting sanctuary policies to build community trust and ensure that crime victims cooperate with the police, are wrong. Georgia needs legislators who recognize the importance of protecting members of the immigrant community.

Redistricting and Gerrymandering

HB 566 (2015): Racial Gerrymandering
ACLU GA Position: NO

House Bill 566, passed in 2015, amended state house districts to benefit incumbent legislators' reelection by moving voters of color into a neighboring district. This bill utilized racial gerrymandering and aimed to silence the voices and take away the power of voters of color. The ACLU of Georgia works to ensure that redistricting takes into account the size of a district's population and its racial and ethnic diversity. Georgia needs legislators who will stand for fair and transparent redistricting.

HB 515 (2017): Racial Gerrymandering
ACLU GA Position: NO

House Bill 515 passed the State House in 2017. The bill gerrymandered multiple districts by deliberately moving voters of color out of districts held by the majority party in an attempt to benefit incumbent legislators. This bill utilized racial gerrymandering, which is a tactic to suppress the voting power of voters of color. Georgia needs legislators who will stand for fair and transparent redistricting.

Voting Rights

HB 268 (2017): Exact Match Voter
Suppression Bill
ACLU GA Position: NO

House Bill 268 was passed in 2017 and doubled down on an exact match protocol for voter registration. This protocol stripped thousands of Georgians of their fundamental right to vote because of minor discrepancies and typos in state databases. The majority of residents affected by this exact match protocol are people of color. Georgians need legislators who will fight to ensure that every citizen's right to vote is protected and who will stand up and fight against voter suppression tactics.

SB 309 (2018): Cuts to Election Day Voting Hours Bill ACLU GA Position: NO

Senate Bill 309 was passed by the Senate in 2018 and sought to force all polling places to close at 7:00PM. This bill was particularly aimed at the city of Atlanta, where polling locations stay open until 8:00PM. The voting process should be one that is fair and considerate of every citizen, including accounting for long lines and traffic in highly-populated areas of the state. Georgia needs legislators who will fight to expand access to voting, instead of working to make it hard for Georgians to exercise their constitutional right to vote.

SB 363 (2018): Cuts to Election Day Voting Hours Bill ACLU GA Position: NO

Senate Bill 363 was passed by the Senate in 2018 and similarly to S.B. 309 attempted to enforce a 7:00PM statewide poll closing time, striking the allowance for larger cities like Atlanta to keep polls open longer. This change would have made it more difficult for people to vote in areas that are busier due to higher population concentrations and increased traffic. The ACLU supports fair and accessible elections that allow as many citizens as possible to participate in our democracy. Georgia needs legislators who will protect the right to vote for all Georgians.

SB 463 (2020): Reduction of Voting Booths Bill ACLU GA Position: NO

Senate Bill 463 was passed by the Senate in 2020. The bill would've allowed local officials to decrease the number of voting booths during certain elections, which leads to longer lines and wait times at the polls and is a tactic of voter suppression. At a time when Georgians face extreme barriers to exercising their constitutional right to vote, Georgia needs legislators who fight to protect voting rights and expand access to voting.

Criminal Justice Reform and Policing

SB 367 (2016): Criminal Justice Reform Bill ACLU GA Position: YES

Senate Bill 367 was passed in 2016 and establishes comprehensive criminal justice reform. This bill aims to promote rehabilitation and re-entry into society for formerly incarcerated individuals. This legislation is a great step towards comprehensive criminal justice reform. Support during the re-entry process is crucial as individuals attempt to rebuild their lives. Georgia needs legislators who will support successful reintegration for formerly incarcerated individuals.

SB 402 (2020): Criminalization of Poverty Bill ACLU GA Position: NO

Senate Bill 402 was passed in 2020 and reinforces the racist money bail system, which is most detrimental to Georgians of color and those without financial resources. By decreasing judges' discretion to release individuals without upfront monetary payment, SB 402 allows those with financial means to buy their freedom while those without bail funds are forced to await trial in jail, at immense cost to local governments. This law directly contradicts Georgia's efforts to reform the criminal justice system and instead disproportionately affects those most financially vulnerable. In addition, the money-bail system doubles down on the current system of mass incarceration and the criminalization of poverty. Georgia needs legislators that support bail reform and will fight the criminalization of poverty.

SB 288 (2020): Second Chances for Georgians Bill ACLU GA Position: YES

Senate Bill 288 was passed in 2020 and allows for record expungement after a period of time. SB 288 supports Georgians seeking employment opportunities who were previously judged due to their criminal record. A conviction can create permanent barriers that stand in the way of a person's ability to move on with their lives. Senate Bill 288 is an important and vital step towards reducing recidivism, reducing mass incarceration, and improving public safety here in Georgia. Georgia needs legislators who support second chances and criminal justice reform.

HB 994 (2020): Overcriminalization of Young People Bill ACLU GA Position: NO

House Bill 994, passed by the State House in 2020, would create longer sentences for alleged gang-related activity and would place more juveniles into the criminal legal system. Instead of meaningfully working to address why young people join gangs, this bill calls for utilizing excessively harsh and unproven tactics. This bill increases the criminalization of young people, and especially young people of color, making our state's rampant mass incarceration problem worse. Georgia needs legislators who will fight to reform the broken mass incarceration system.

HB 838 (2020): Anti-Protest and Increased Police Protections Bill ACLU GA Position: NO

House Bill 838 was passed in 2020 and creates additional and unnecessary legal protections for law enforcement officers in Georgia. At a time when Black lives are being harmed and taken by police violence, we need police reform and accountability, not more protections for cops. This bill aims to punish those who are protesting police violence and demanding police reform, by making it easier for police to sue members of the public for something as little as filing a complaint alleging police misconduct. The bill also creates "hate crimes" protections for cops and adds additional criminal penalties into state law. Georgia needs legislators who support freedom of speech and police accountability and reform.

SB 160 (2017): Harsher Criminal Penalties Bill ACLU GA Position: NO

Senate Bill 160 was passed in 2017. This bill unnecessarily adds harsher penalties for offenses committed against police officers, including mandatory minimum sentences. The bill also allows for juveniles to be tried in adult court rather than juvenile court for certain offenses committed against public safety officers. In a state that is in dire need of criminal justice and police reform, this legislation is a step in the wrong direction. Georgians need legislators who fight for criminal justice reform and police reform.

LGBTQ

SB 375 (2018): Anti-LGBTQ Adoption Bill
ACLU GA Position: NO

Senate Bill 375 was passed in the State Senate in 2018 and sought to allow faith-based child-placing agencies to discriminate against LGBTQ parents who are looking to provide children in need a safe and loving home. The bill is both discriminatory and unconstitutional. Georgia needs legislators who fight to ensure religious freedom is not used as a sword for discrimination

HB 757 (2016): LGBTQ Workplace and Services
Discrimination Bill
ACLU GA Position: NO

House Bill 757 was passed in 2016 and sought to allow businesses and organizations to openly deny services to LGBTQ individuals, or anyone who the business or organization had an alleged religious objection to. The First Amendment right to freedom of religion is meant to protect religious freedom, while making it clear that it cannot be used to cause harm to others. Georgia needs legislators who fight to ensure religious freedom is not used as a sword for discrimination.

First Amendment/Free Speech

SB 318 (2020): State Funded Discrimination and Anti-Free Speech Bill ACLU GA Position: NO

Senate Bill 318 passed in 2020. The Senate version of the bill sought to circumvent existing policies of public colleges and universities that prohibit discrimination, thereby allowing for state sanctioned and funded discrimination at Georgia's public colleges and universities. The bill also sought to ban student-athletes from protesting, infringing on their First Amendment rights. Georgia needs legislators who will fight to uphold the First Amendment and its free speech protections.

SB 339 (2018): Campus Anti-Free Speech Bill ACLU GA Position: NO

Senate Bill 339 was passed in 2018 and the bill aims to limit the rights of students at Georgia's public colleges and universities to exercise their First Amendment right to protest. Students have the right to invite speech they wish to hear, debate speech with which they disagree, and protest speech they find bigoted or offensive, but Senate Bill 339 puts that right at risk. Georgia needs legislators who protect the constitutional right to protest.

Reproductive rights

HB 954 (2012): 20-Week Abortion Ban ACLU GA Position: NO

House Bill 954 was passed in 2012, and it placed a ban on abortions at 20 weeks or later. Abortion bans have nothing to do with saving lives or protecting the interests of children. Abortion is a constitutionally protected right, and the ACLU of Georgia firmly believes that people should be able to make their own decisions about whether and when to become a parent without the interference of politicians. Georgia needs legislators who will fight to protect the constitutionally protected right to abortion.

HB 990 (2013): Anti-Medicaid Expansion ACLU GA Position: NO

HB 990 was passed in 2013 and prohibited the expansion of Medicaid eligibility through an increase in income threshold without prior legislative approval. This law restricted Georgians' access to affordable medical benefits and aid. Georgia needs lawmakers who do not allow political and partisan agendas to restrict the rights and privileges of its citizens.

SB 98 (2014): Abortion Opt-Out ACLU GA Position: NO

SB 98 was passed in 2014 and prohibited abortion insurance coverage under any qualified health plan through state law, federal law, or exchange created through the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. It made sure to articulate that no part of the Georgia law could be construed as creating or recognizing a person's right to abortion. This law further increased restrictions to abortion access thereby violating the rights of people to make their own decisions about their body and whether or not to become a parent. Georgia needs legislators who recognize abortion care is healthcare.

SB 308 (2016): Anti-Abortion Pregnancy Planning ACLU GA Position: NO

Senate Bill 308 was passed in 2016 and provides taxpayer funds to Crisis Pregnancy Centers, commonly referred to as "fake clinics." The organizations cannot receive grant money if they encourage an abortion, provide an abortion, or refer someone to an abortion clinic. SB 308 makes it more difficult for people to get access to accurate information and interferes with a person's right to choose. Georgia needs legislators who will fight to protect the constitutionally protected right to abortion.

SB 201 (2017): Family CARES Act ACLU GA Position: YES

Senate Bill 201 was passed in 2017 and allowed employees to use their sick leave to care for immediate family members, including children, a spouse, parents, grandparents or any other dependents. Since the responsibility of caring for family and children is typically left to women, SB 201 saves individuals from having to make the choice between paying their bills and taking care of their families. SB 201 is a step in the right direction. Georgia needs legislators who fight for equal employment access regardless of gender or parenting status.

HB 345 (2019): Anti-Shackling ACLU GA Position: YES

HB 345 was passed in 2019 and prohibits law enforcement officers from using physical restraints, or solitary confinement on a pregnant person or a person in the immediate postpartum period. Shackling pregnant people during active labor and childbirth is all too common, despite it endangering the health of both the mother and the fetus. Georgia needs legislators who believe that people who are pregnant while incarcerated are worthy of human decency and respect.

HB 481 (2019); 6-Week Abortion Ban ACLU GA Position: NO

Prior to being deemed unconstitutional in 2020, HB 481 was passed in 2019 and effectively banned nearly all instances of abortion after six weeks of pregnancy, before most women even know they are pregnant. The right to an abortion is constitutionally protected and will continue to exist despite attempted legislative interferences like HB 481. Georgia needs legislators who will respect the Constitution and not infringe upon a person's right to choose.

HB 1114(2020): Postpartum Medicaid Expansion ACLU GA Position: YES

HB 1114, passed in 2020, expands maternal medicaid coverage. It provides coverage for lactation care and services for pregnant and lactating people and to their children who are breastfeeding. It also extends medicaid coverage for postpartum services to six months after birth. This legislation is critical as Georgia has a maternal mortality crisis: Georgia ranks 50th in maternal mortality rates in the US. Georgia needs legislators who will fight to protect mothers and reproductive rights.
